AFFAIR AT UNIONVILLE, TENN.

CINCINNATI, March 9.—I learn from Nashville that a division of cavalry, under Acting Brigadier General Minty, attacked Russell's Confederate cavalry at Unionville, ten miles southeast of Murfreesboro', on Saturday, the 7th inst. They captured twenty-one wagons, twenty-five tents, eighty-five mules, five horses and all the camp equipage, and the uniform of Colonel Russel, together with two captains, three lieutenants and fifty-three privates. Two of the Federals were slightly wounded. The Confederates lost fifty killed and eighty wounded, all by sabre strokes. The seventy Pennsylvania and Fourth Michigan did the work.

The Gazette's correspondent adds:—"Look out for stirring despatches from this quarter within three days, if the Rebels stand their ground."

The Philadelphia Inquirer of this morning says:—"There is a rumor afloat here of a Confederate raid in force being threatened at Winchester, but we learn from despatches to-night direct from there that there is not the slightest foundation for such a story. It probably arose such a story. It probably arose from the fact of the Confederates having made a raid at Fairfax Court House last night."

Medical Inspector Vollum, U. S. A., leaves to-morrow, by order of Surgeon-General Hammond, to inspect the sanitary condition of Gen. Grant's army, which is suffering in the location in which they are encamped, but not to the extent reported. Every means will be used to supply them with all curatives and preventives that are to be had.

Some of the more wealthy of the British residents in New York (merchants, bankers and others,) intend to celebrate the marriage of the Prince of Wales in grand style. Several dinner parties are on the tapis, one at the British consul's, another at the princely mansion of the agent of Baring Brothers, and a third at the house of an English lady, well known for her benevolent enterprises on behalf of her indigent countrymen.

MILITARY ARRESTS.—Thos. R. Love, E. R. Ford, John Taylor, J. C. Gunnel, and others, citizens of Fairfax Court House, have been arrested by the U. S. military authorities, and sent to the Old Capitol prison.

Cassius M. Clay is writing a defence of himself, his reputation being damaged by his card and placard against Seward, Halleck, and others.

A large camp of instruction is to be somewhere formed for a hundred thousand men. — Either the neighborhood of Washington or of Annapolis will probably be taken for the purpose.

In the Baltimore Conference, M. E. Church, a letter from Martinsburg, Va., was received, endorsing a donation for needy persons. The Conference passed a vote of thanks to the donor and "Rev. Mr. Lanahan, Presiding Elder of the Virginia District, referring to the letter, said that might be considered as being signed by every Methodist in Martinsburg. The people there had been martyrs to their country and martyrs to the Church, and in handsome terms he complimented the members of the old Methodist Episcopal church in Martinsburg."

AFFAIR IN BALTIMORE.—A correspondent of the Baltimore American gives a statement of all the circumstances connected with the display of the U. S. Flag above the proscenium of the Holliday Street Theatre on last Saturday morning, during the graduation of the medical students. On Friday it came to the knowledge of the faculty, that two of the students, who are medical cadets of the Government to graduate in the Federal uniform, when they were informed by the Faculty that such a thing could not be allowed. The students then reported the case to the military authorities, who required them to substantiate their statement by their oaths, which was done.

The Faculty were then notified that they must permit the young cadets to graduate in the Federal uniform, and furthermore, that they must display the National Flag upon the occasion, all of which was complied with—the military body referred to in the local reports of the proceedings being there by authority to resent any insult that might be offered to the Flag.

ABANDONED SOUTHERN PRODUCE.—The President declined to sign the bill having for its object the collection of the Southern agricultural staples, and for their transfer to the markets of the North, where they were to be sold on treasury account. In the discussion of this bill it was stated by Republican Senators that it had been prepared by Secretaries Stanton and Chase. Originally it provided that the agents of the Government should purchase Southern products, and the provision was supported by Mr. Howard and other Republican Senators, on the ground that a friendly inducement was thereby held out to rebels to return to their old relations with the people of the North. But this particular provision was struck out, and the bill as it passed provided that the articles were to be collected merely and sent to Northern markets for disposal. It was stated in debate that officers of the army had made large sums in purchasing cotton and sending it to the Loyal States by returning trains of army wagons and cars. Nat. Int.

The N. Y. Express's Washington correspondent says:—"The Senate Military Committee find that of the list of brigadiers the following are civilians, and without military experience. They are not accordingly reported upon: John P. Slough, of Colorado Territory; Herman Haught, Massachusetts; J. B. S. Todd, Dacotah Territors; Hector Tyndale, Pennsylvania; Stephen C. Champlin, Michigan; G. W. Deitzler, Kaesas; Francis F. B. Spinola, New York; R. A. Buckland, Rhode Island; and Wm. B. Barton, Illinois. The other members are all officers of the United States army or volunteers."

It is reported that when Gen. Clay sent to General Halleck to ask him for a command, the latter replied tartly: "Your command?" "You are not fit to command anything, sir," and turned on his heel.

London, on the 28th ult., was agitated by a rumor of the reception in Paris of Mr. Seward's answer to M. Drouyn de l'Huys mediation proposition, but as no answer had really come to hand yet, the agitation was without cause.

The steamer Damascus for Liverpool, to-day takes out $402,000 in specie—making with the Glasgow's statement $959,878.

It is not known that the Provost Marshal General under the Conscription law has yet been designated. The appointment of Maj. Gen. Butler to this extremely important position is strongly urged. Alex. S. Diven, late member of Congress from New York, has his supporters for the place.

A proclamation from the President may be anticipated in a few days, pardoning all deserters who may return to the army within a certain time as provided in a law of Congress just enacted.

An attempt was made on Saturday to renew the riot at Detroit. The account shows the riot to have been a serious affair, involving some features of horrible atrocity.

The United States Senate in executive session yesterday, confirmed a number of military and civil appointments.
